

Mrs. John C. Caldwell sailing on board the Adriatic for a stay on the Riviera.
Paul Thompson.

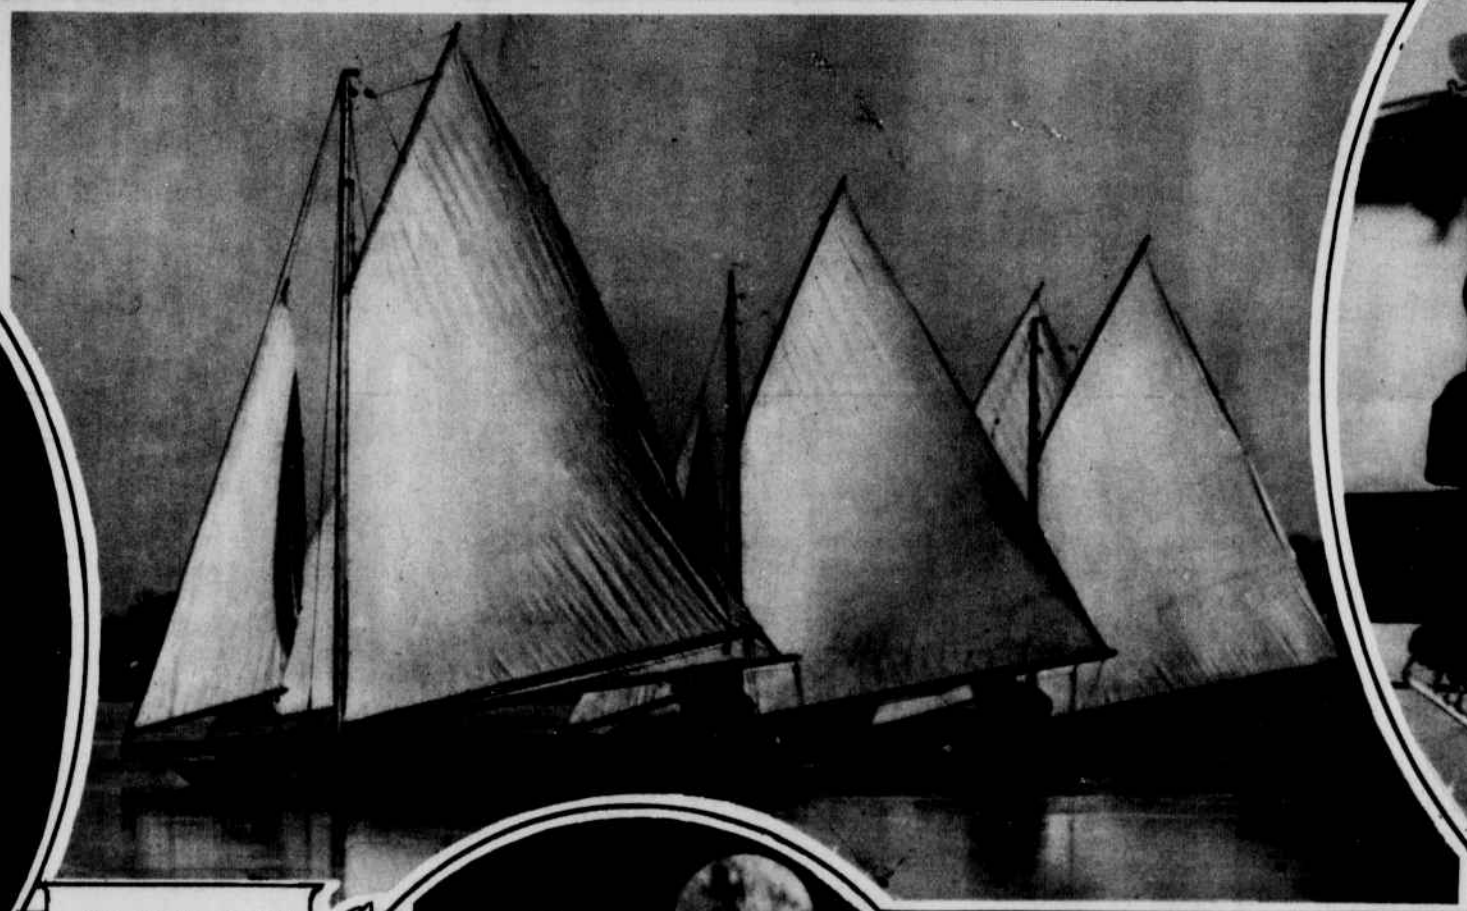

The first equestrian statue of a woman, that of Jeanne d'Arc, the gift of the Société des Femmes de France, now stands on Meridian Hill in Washington. It was unveiled by Mme. Carlo Polifeme. From left to right in the picture are: Col. C. O. Sherrill, U. S. A.; Ambassador Jusserand, Mrs. Harding, President Harding, Mme. Polifeme and Secretary Weeks.

(c) Harris & Ewing.

The Right Rev. Thomas J. Walsh, Bishop of Trenton, sailing for Europe on the Adriatic for a visit to the Vatican.
P. & A. photo.

Here is the start of a race in the annual ice yacht regatta on the Shrewsbury River. The ice was smooth, the breeze good and lively contests resulted.
International.

The Misses Mary Rose and May Crawford, among the feminine sailors who took part in the Shrewsbury regatta.
International.

Children from the East Side Clinic were guests of the Mozart Society at luncheon at the Hotel Astor recently. The photograph shows one of the many tables. Standing, left to right: Mrs. Carrie Hession, Mrs. F. H. Edmonds, Mrs. S. G. Estabrook, Mrs. Noble McConnell and Mrs. E. O. Challenger.
Ewing Galloway.

Above — On the third anniversary of the death of Col. Theodore Roosevelt hundreds visited his grave at Oyster Bay. The photograph shows Mrs. Roosevelt greeting Oscar Straus, former Ambassador to Turkey.
International.

At right—Dr. Lyman Abbott at the Roosevelt grave in Youngs Cemetery, Oyster Bay, L. I.
International.

Gov. Edwards of New Jersey (left) and Gov. Sprout of Pennsylvania clasp hands in an interstate greeting after breaking ground for the great interstate bridge which is to connect Philadelphia and Camden, N. J.
Underwood & Underwood.